T LEVEL GUIDE

Student checklist

Thinking about a T Level? Use this to work out if it's right for you, what to ask at open days, and when to apply.

Is a T Level right for me?

Tick the ones that sound like you. There are no wrong answers.

- [ ] I have an idea of the area I'd like to work in, like Digital or Engineering.
- [ ] I like the idea of learning in a classroom most of the time (about 80%) and spending the rest in a real workplace.
- [ ] I'm up for a placement of at least 315 hours, which is about 45 days.
- [ ] I've looked at A levels and apprenticeships too, so I can compare.

Questions to ask at an open day

Don't be shy. Staff expect questions, and the answers will tell you a lot.

- [ ] What do I need to get on to this course?
- [ ] How do you find placements, and which employers do you work with?
- [ ] Will my placement be in one block, one day a week, or a mix?
- [ ] I haven't got grade 4 in English or maths yet. How would you help me?
- [ ] If I'm not quite ready, do you run the T Level Foundation Year?
- [ ] What did last year's students go on to do?

My plan

Colleges or schools I like

Open day dates

Application deadlines

People who can help me (a teacher, careers adviser or someone at home)

Find out more

- TLevels.gov.uk has every subject explained: www.tlevels.gov.uk
- Find a T Level near you: www.tlevels.gov.uk/students/find

Information from TLevels.gov.uk and GOV.UK, correct in October 2026.